Seasonal Sale of PHALAEOPSIS

TWO of the most outstanding Phalaenopsis of the past five years, considering stud quality, shape, substance and flower production, are Winged Victory and Doris. The plants listed here have these varieties somewhere in their makeup. We have used them together, making Grace Palm, and separately in other crosses.

Rotary Ann has been used because of its ability to produce an abundance of flowers nicely spaced on long arching stems.

This offering will not only appeal to seasoned growers of Phalaenopsis but also to those who now wish to add this very popular and lovely orchid to their collection.

GRACE PALM

No. 60—GRACE PALM (Winged Victory "Cobra" x Doris "Baker") Considering all its desirable qualities, this is undoubtedly the best we have made to date. A vigorous grower. Sizes 1½", 2½", 3", 4".

No. 56—GRACE PALM (Winged Victory "Cumulus" x Doris "Charlie"). One of the finest crosses to date. Both parents produce large, snow white flowers of heavy substance, round and very full. Sizes 1½", 2½", 3".

No. 57—GRACE PALM (Doris "Charlie" x Winged Victory "Supreme"). Expect larger than No. 56 and a little more open flower. Sizes 1½", 2½", 3", 4".

No. 8—Doris (Doris "Baker" x Doris "Able")

Flowers of heavy substance and good shape. Spike habit is short; flowers closely spaced. Sizes 1½", 2½" and 3" pots.
